

French as a Second Foreign Language for High School Students

Sachiko SHIMADA

It is very important for high school students to study a second foreign language in addition to English. In order to realize this, students studying at French Otsuma Nakano High School participated in a survey, where they were asked to explain the reasons for wanting to learn French. This paper reports on the results of that survey.